Decide to Operate to Get Bullet From Near Laval's Heart

Sustained High Fever Though Indication of Bad Infection

Paris, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Doctors decided to attempt an emergency operation on Pierre Laval late this afternoon to remove an assassin's bullet from just below the heart to save his life.

(Since it was 8 p. m. in Paris at noon CST, the operation may already have been performed at that time. Communications from the German-occupied French capital are slow.)

Fears for the 58-year-old French leader mounted through the day as physicians attributed a sustained fever to a possible infection from the bullet wound, inflicted two days ago.

The doctors' anxiety increased as Laval's temperature, which stayed at 39 degrees Centigrade (102.2 degrees Fahrenheit) from early morning until late afternoon rose another half degree Centigrade (to slightly over 103 degrees Fahrenheit) in early evening.

Peritonitis Possible

The possibility of peritonitis was regarded as a mortal peril.

Physicians were said to be considering an operation to extract the bullet in those circumstances even though they had rejected surgery at first as too dangerous and had ordered the bullet left untouched.

The sudden turn for the worse occurred overnight. If the high temperature should prove due to the beginning of an infection, it was pointed out, vital organs may be affected, since the bullet is lodged only about one-tenth of an inch from Laval's heart.

Police Broaden Drive

It was learned that French police had broadened their counter-drive against opposition elements to include the empire. A military tribunal at Meknes, French Morocco, sentenced two men to six years at hard labor for "an attack on the external security of the state."

A woman was condemned to three years in jail.

The condition of Marcel Deat who is also one of the top leaders of the group favoring stronger collaboration with Germany and who was shot at the same time as Laval, was declared improved.

An investigation of the Caen home of the assassin, Paul Collette, was said to have disclosed that he had fought side-by-side with British troops at Dunkerque and had been evacuated with them to England. He was reported to have tried to return to England recently, presumably to join the Free French forces under Gen. Charles de Gaulle. How he got back to France in the first place was not explained.

Relatives Questioned

An investigation was carried out at Collette's home and relatives were summoned to a local police station for questioning.

Police pressed a thorough

Skidmore's Friend
Says Resignation
'Must Be Mistake'

Chicago, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Lester J. Laird, whose resignation as chief of Cook county highway police was announced a week ago by Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien, returned to his office today and said it all must have been a mistake.

"I have neither resigned, nor have I been asked to resign, nor do I intend to resign," he told a cluster of the curious who gathered around his desk.

O'Brien announced his chief's resignation the night after a newspaper published a picture of Laird at the Drake hotel with William R. Skidmore, convicted recently of evading $347,409 in taxes on an income the government said he received from Chicago gambling interests. At that time the sheriff said Laird had quit because "he did not want to embarrass me."

Gives Up "Friendship"

"I told the sheriff I would be away for a week or so," Laird said, "and that I would give some thought to the proposition of whether or not I would leave the department. Since then I have been advised by many friends that I would do myself an injustice by leaving."

Laird added that he did not think the sheriff would have any objection to his coming back to work. "Sheriff O'Brien said I would sever my friendship, and it seemed satisfactory to him."

Acting Chief John Healy made his appearance about this time and said it was all right with him if Laird wanted to join his staff again. Sheriff O'Brien could not be found for his view.

Today's Fish Story

Beckley, W. Va., Aug. 29.—(AP)—From a Radford, Va., powder plant comes this tale: A plant engineer went fishing in the New river and hooked a catfish, which he took home, cleaned and placed in a frying pan. In a moment an explosion blew fish, skillet and hot grease all over the kitchen.

The engineer concluded that the fish, living in the stream below the powder plant, became so impregnated with nitro cotton it exploded in the heat.

Rape-Slayer of 7 Young Women Held by Capital Police

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Metropolitan police, claiming an amazing series of confessions from a one-time undertaker's assistant, today announced the solution of two crimes that shocked the capital—the rape-slaying of a pretty government stenographer and the rape-slaying of a young bride of a few weeks.

Edward J. Kelly, acting superintendent of police, said that the man—Jarvis Roosevelt Catoe, a 38-year-old negro—had confessed not only in these two cases, but in a series of five other sex homicides both here and in New York. Three of the victims were white, four negroes.

The superintendent said he was satisfied that the confessions were true and they "positively convinced him" that he had the man who raped and strangled Miss Jessie Elizabeth Strieff, war department employee from Des Moines, Ia., whose nude body was found hidden in the garage of a retired professor here June 16.

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The war department announced details today for releasing 200,000 soldiers from military service by the end of the year, and disclosed the largest group would come from the Third Army.

An announcement said that 46,000 men would be released from the Third Army which has headquarters at San Antonio, Tex.; 39,300 from the First Army with headquarters at Governor's Island, N. Y.; 19,300 from the Second Army, with headquarters at Memphis, Tenn.; and 16,200 from the Fourth Army, with headquarters at San Francisco; 8,700 from the armored force, and 5,000 from service with the army air force.

Super-Ministry of Supplies Ordered in Defense Makeup

Seven-Man Board Put in Charge of Everything by President

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, striving anew to step up arms production, concentrated the supreme control of all the nation's natural resources today in a seven-man board headed by Vice President Wallace.

This board—a super-ministry of supplies—was charged with the duty of deciding what proportion of the country's materials and productive power must go for military essentials, and what may be spared for civilian needs.

These decisions perforce will result in some civilian hardships, the White House stated, but it reported that the Office of Production Management was seeking to ease them as much as possible.

Roosevelt issued an executive order last night creating the new body—the Supply Priorities and Allocations Board. In effect, it meant a reorganization of some of the existing defense machinery, and a limited re-shuffling of some key defense personnel.

There has been criticism in many quarters for some weeks over the progress of the arms production drive, over reported friction and duplicating functions existing in various defense agencies, and over the delays in allocating available raw materials to industry.

Whether the president's action would completely still the criticism was debatable, for a goodly portion of it has been accompanied by demands for the appointment of a one-man head for the arms effort, with the broad powers that Bernard M. Baruch wielded as chairman of the War Industries Board of World War days.

First Comment Favorable

One of the first important comments however, proved favorable. Alvin Macaulay, president of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, said that the setup appeared "to give us the consolidation of leadership we have needed from the start."

The new board was empowered to deal primarily with the supply question, but its scope evidently extended to numerous other problems which have given rise to complaint.

To it Roosevelt named: Vice President Wallace; William S. Knudsen, director general of OPM; Sidney Hillman, co-director of OPM;

Secretary of War Stimson; Secretary of Navy Knox; Leon Henderson, head of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply; and Harry L.

Turbaned Tarzan
Eludes Officers

Dixon police were called to the north side last night at 10 o'clock to locate a turbaned amateur tarzan who was reported to have made his appearance about that hour in the locality of Everett street and Upham Place. A diligent search of the vicinity failed to divulge his hiding place or the unclothed male, who was described by two women as having worn only a cloth wrapped about his head.

The two women were seated in a parked car on Lincoln Way when the naked man walked out from between two houses, halted briefly in front of their car, then ran west toward the Illinois Central right of way, where he disappeared from view.

Chief Van Bibber and Patrolman Harry Jones conducted an intensive search of the neighborhood, but were unable to locate him. Chief Van Bibber was continuing his investigation today.

Secret Jap Note to President Creates Number 1 Mystery

Japan Thought Alarmed at Drift of United States Relations

By LLOYD LEHRBAS
Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The man-to-man discussion of American-Japanese relations by President Roosevelt and Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura impressed diplomatic quarters here today as a possible first step toward a sweeping review of all important points at issue between the two nations.

Bolstering this conclusion was an official announcement from Tokyo this morning that the message which Admiral Nomura delivered to the president yesterday outlined the "imperial government's attitude toward the Pacific situation."

The message, this announcement said, was delivered at the behest of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Japanese premier, after a special cabinet meeting.

Asked at his press conference today whether he was hopeful now that "war in the Pacific can be averted", Roosevelt smilingly dodged making a reply by branding the question too long and too broad.

No Comment on Meeting

He had no comment on his meeting with Nomura and, to a question asking whether "we are getting anywhere", he replied there was no news on that today.

Reminded that the second anniversary of the World War was approaching, and asked whether the "outlook is any better," Roosevelt remarked he was making a speech Monday, which is the second anniversary.

Reporters saw in his words an intimation that he might review the war situation in the address, to be delivered from his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., as part of a program arranged by the Office of Production Management.

The fact that the Japanese initiated yesterday's conference, in which Secretary of State Hull also took part, was held deeply significant—indicative, perhaps, of Tokyo's desire to achieve a peaceful solution of pending problems.

No Hint of Contents

The White House, the state department, and the Japanese embassy here let slip no hint of what Prince Konoye said or suggested in his personal message to Roosevelt.

Gasoline Shortage

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Admiral Emory S. Land proposed today construction of 100 oil-carrying barges as the speediest and least expensive solution for shortages of gasoline and fuel oil along the eastern seaboard.

The blunt-spoken chairman of the Maritime Commission said he was opposed to construction of a huge new pipeline from southwestern oil fields to the east because it would take 750,000 tons of steel badly needed by the navy and maritime commission.

The admiral told a senate committee that the barges could be towed by tankers and other ships and could be constructed at the rate of 20 a month starting in January, with about 100,000 tons of steel.

"I don't know where they are going to get this 750,000 tons of steel (for the pipeline) but if it is to come out of the navy or my ships, then I'm against it," Land

Hitler and Mussolini
Hold Five-Day Secret
Conference at Front

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini have met at the fuhrer's east front headquarters for the last five days, it was announced in Berlin today, mapping post-war aims and calling for the "destruction of the bolshevist danger and of plutocratic exploitation."

When—and if—this twin downfall has been accomplished, the axis leaders decided, the way will be open for "peaceful, harmonious and profitable cooperation of all peoples of the European continent."

The secret meeting, which began Monday and ended today, came just 11 days after President Roosevelt's historic meeting with Prime Minister Churchill on the high seas.

While their armies afield reported smashing new blows against the Russians, the fuhrer and Il Duce were said to have discussed "the development and duration of the war."

Whether the totalitarian chieftains envisaged an early end to the bloody two-year-old struggle—possibly another "peace offensive"—or took decisions for momentous new military ventures was not revealed.

Estonian Capital Falls

Hitler's invasion armies have captured the long-besieged city of Tallinn, capital of Estonia, the German high command announced today, and a violent naval battle was believed raging in the Gulf of Finland with the Germans attempting to smash a fleeing armada of soviet warships and troop transports.

The thunder of gunfire in the gulf was heard in Helsinki, 80 miles across the gulf from Tallinn, and Finnish fliers reported seeing many dozens of Russian ships steaming out of Tallinn and heading eastward last night.

German and Finnish fleets and warplanes were said to be attacking the Russians in their flight from the burning capital.

Finnish aerial observers also reported great fires reddened the skies last night over Viipuri, indicating that the Russians were destroying that Karelian capital, 75 miles north of Leningrad. The flames were visible 32 miles away, the Finns said.

Besides the capture of Tallinn "after a hard fight", the German high command announced that Nazi troops had seized the modern port of Paldiski, 20 miles west.

Reds Admit Setback

Meanwhile, the Russians acknowledged another major setback—the fall of the great UK—

3 New Divisions
Enroute to Join
Army Maneuvers

By JERRY T. BAULICH
With the Second Army in Arkansas, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The scene of the Second Army's war games shifted 30 miles eastward today from the vicinity of Prescott to the Ouachita river territory near Camden and three more divisions entered the picture.

The week-end was to be devoted to moving into position the 110,000 men who will swing into action next week in a gigantic war-up for the Louisiana war games next month involving 500,000 men.

The Seventh Corps' 75,000 men, who ended 13 days of field exercises yesterday, had three days to make the trip before facing two divisions of a provisional corps encamped at Pine Bluff.

Blues in Position

With the blue army (Illinois 33rd division) in position on the southwest side of the Ouachita, a Red provisional corps including the Fifth and Sixth regular divisions, headed for a connotation across the stream.

The Sixth, from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., will come from near Pine Bluff. The fifth division, 15,000 men from Fort Custer, Mich., now on the march, will take a stand beside the Sixth.

Its exact date of entrance into the battle kept secret, the Second cavalry division from Fort Riley, Kas., assembled in extreme east Arkansas, apparently to sweep against the Seventh Army Corps late next week.

The troops traveled with Lieut. General Ben Lear's assurance that the maneuvers were serving to build "an army fit to fight, an army fit to meet veterans in the field and take the field away from them, and suffer the least losses."

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

The attempted assassination of Pierre Laval in Versailles, and the widespread sabotage directed against the Nazi overlordship in France, may be the grim outward signs of a rebirth of the French nation.

It is too soon to determine that point yet. The land of Lafayette is desperately ill and the crisis has not been reached. Only time can tell what the end may be.

If there is any surprise attached to the attack on Laval, it surely must lie in the fact that it didn't come sooner, for he walked in the shadow of death. This pro-Nazi politician, who had been the premier of a free republic, has been standing for collaboration with that Hitlerian regime which for a time appeared not only to have crushed the body of France but to have killed her spirit as well.

Robert Lee, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fane celebrated his second birthday anniversary Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 20 at an afternoon party arranged by his mother at the nursery school.

"The children were seated at two long tables and fruit jello and cake were served. The cake was baked by his great aunt, Mrs. Harold Ankeny. It was an angel food frosted cake in white and all pretty colors of sugar were sprinkled over it. Two little pink candles were burning and after the birthday song was sung Bobby had a good time blowing out the lights. During the day pictures were taken of the little group and a photo of Bobby sitting at the table with the cake. We hope Bobby will have many more happy birthdays. On Thursday morning Bobby came to school, had a piece of cake for Mr. White, Mrs. McCaffery, Mrs. Ulrich and Miss Entorf. His grandmother Potts in Dixon made it for him and we all agree it was delicious.

We want to thank Mrs. Fane for plums, tomatoes and cucumbers. We have had more plums promised to us but we are short of sugar. We also thank Danny Newman for newspapers.

Last Friday, Miss Elizabeth King of Rockford was here and she thought we had our hands full, but were doing good work. We were so glad to have some of our former members visit us. Mary Ellen Lane brought her little sister, Beverly, and four cousins, Rita, Gertrude and Genia Daniels and Shirley Ehmman. Beverly, Rita and Shirley will go to school as they wanted to visit the nursery once more and we were happy to have them.

One morning last week Willie Reinhold came into the nursery with a big smile and he had a basket filled with sweet corn and said it was for the kiddies. Thank you, Willie; they surely enjoyed it.

I was talking to several little boys and I mentioned visiting a colored school in Champaign. One little fellow said: "Were you in Champaign?" I said "Yes," and he said: "My mother and daddy were in Pencilpenn" (Penn.) this summer."

Monday morning we had two more little ones start in school. Mary Alice and Larry Leroy Clevinger, children of Mr. and Mrs. James Clevinger. Larry will be three years old Aug. 27. Sally and Pauline McDowell of Chester, Ill. spent the day with us. Both of the little girls enjoyed themselves and Sally said: "I wish I could go to school here," but she will start to school soon.

An estimated one billion copies of the Bible have been printed.

Love and Selflessness Taught by John to Destroy Greed, Hate and Violence

Text: I John 3:13-18; 4:7-21

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.,
Editor of Advance

John is the great apostle of Christian love. He vies with Paul in the interpretation of the Christian philosophy, and practice of love, but Paul's great exposition—while it runs in some form all through his Epistles—was confined chiefly to the 13th of I Corinthians, whereas the Epistles of John deal specifically with love.

Here in our lesson we have love defined as the great test of the Christian life. Hatred is characteristic of the world. Christians are not to be surprised if the world should hate them, but they passed from death into life because they love their brethren. In John's conception, not to love is to be virtually dead, but to love is to abide in God and to have God abiding in one's soul. Hatred is akin to murder, whereas love is so strong and great it would incline one even to give his life for others.

Where Paul says it is the love of Christ that constraineth us, John sounds the same note in saying that our knowledge of love is because Christ laid down his life for us. He makes a test of love, and in this he compares it with the practical Christian philosophy of the Epistle of James. He asks whether the love of God can abide in any man who has plenty of this world's goods but who withholds his compassion and his aid from his needy brethren. He makes the very definite admonition, ad-

As if this were not enough, he proceeds to deal with the foundation of this love and its divine sources and meaning. "Beloved," he says, "let us love one another; for love is of God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love."

What a rich and wonderful definition in those three words! Nor is John stating simply a philosophy. He goes on to tell us how this love of God was manifest in the gift of His son and in the gift of life through Him. Love is not merely a human thing; it is divine in its origin and its magnitude. It is not defined or limited by our love to God, but its real nature is defined by the unlimited love of God for us, and if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

Changing the thought from different angles, John goes on in every way to emphasize this profound fact that there can be no true religion that is not founded in love and expressed in love, and that love embraces all that is best in God and in man. It is, as a later expositor, Henry Drummond, said, "The supreme gift, the greatest thing in the world."

And certainly when one sees what selfishness, greed, hate and violence have done to our world we can say with assurance that it is the world's greatest need.

Good Samaritan Dies
From Beating; 5 Men Held; Admit Assault

Chicago, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Assistant State's Attorney Irvin B. Clorfeine said today that five men, three of them negroes, had admitted the fatal beating of John Nazimek, 28, who lost his life because he played the Good Samaritan.

Nazimek died in County hospital yesterday a few hours after he had rushed to the aid of Paul Hilliard, 29, of Sioux City, Ia., a truck driver, as the latter fought with five men on a west side street corner.

Hilliard also was beaten severely but was able to return to his Iowa home. Authorities said he would be asked to come back to aid in prosecution of the case.

No charges were filed against any of the men pending further questioning.

Beauty Contest Is Treat Enjoyed by Theater Crowd

Released murmurs rippled through the Dixon theater last evening, and were followed closely by enthusiastic applause, as 20 of Dixon's most attractive young women appeared behind the footlights in a beauty contest sponsored by the Dixon Lions club. Last evening's event was the forerunner of another contest, to be staged in two weeks, at which Dixon's beauty queen candidates for Louella Parsons' day will be chosen.

It was an entertaining show (even the men admitted it), with the contestants accentuating their youth and charm in becoming formal gowns, ranging from black to the ever-popular blue, and white. Smiles flashed and eyes sparkled, as the young women sensed and enjoyed the approval of their audience.

Elvin Wadsworth introduced the contestants, and following a brief intermission to allow the jury of judges to make its decision, seven of the group were recalled to the stage and notified to reappear for further competition on Sept. 11. The seven included Ada Venier, Glea Rutherford, Sadie Langford, Rose Sterling, Muriel Peterson, Mary McKenney, and Betty Allen.

Ada, the first contestant to appear, bestirred the audience to admiration in a hoop-skirted gown of black taffeta, with a gardenia-edged cameo neckline, and low torso waistline edged with ruffling. Ada, who likes outdoor sports, and dancing, and is decidedly skillful with a needle, says she has no aspirations for becoming an actress. "I'd want to come back home," she remarked, as did most of the others, the free trip to Hollywood being the coveted goal of their efforts.

Glea appeared to be enjoying the contest completely, in a printed gown splashed with roses, gladioli, and other garden flowers in tones to complement her soft brown hair and blue eyes. Glea, whose favorite pastime is dancing, is five feet five inches tall, and weighs 123 pounds.

Sadie, who weighs five pounds less than Glea and is also brown-haired, was wearing peach-colored chiffon over taffeta, with tiny satin bows scattered over the full skirt. Sadie laughingly informed her companions last evening that if she should be the Beauty Queen winner "I'll make Horace Greeley sorry he ever said 'go west,' Maybe I'll be another Joan Davis."

Rose Sterling, tall, slender and fair-haired, was queenly in white marquisette sheer, with long full sleeves tied at the wrists, fitted bodice, and full skirt. A cluster of red roses, caught in a white band at her throat, lent a quaint touch to her costume. Rose sings, bowls, swims, and dances.

Muriel Peterson, blond and fair, showed her preference for blue. The audience undoubtedly liked diminutive Mary McKenney, whose dark hair was accented by a full-skirted gown of yellow organza.

White taffeta, with narrow shoulder straps, a molded bodice and full skirt, was chosen by Betty Allen, whose brown hair was arranged in loose curls. Betty weighs 127 pounds, and is five feet, eight inches tall.

The others, who claimed their share of approval from the audience and caused the judges to ponder for some time over their decisions, included Patty Lou Gannon, Helen Slick, Kathleen Carper, Irene Henson, Evangeline Szabo, Betty Moran, Marilyn Crawford, Rose Mary Huggins, Mildred Corso, Mary Louise Wallace, Eva Lance, Pauline Reilly, and Sue Bryant.

Hogan Looks Like Man to Beat in the Hershey Golf Open

Hershey, Pa., Aug. 29—(AP)—Ben Hogan, an accomplished fellow with golf clubs when a prize is at stake, brought his winning ways home today and, after a brilliant first-round 69, looked like the man to beat in the 72-hole $5,000 Hershey Open championship. Hogan, making his home playing debut as the Hershey professional, equalled the back-nine record of 32 strokes. His 69th tied Clayton Heafner, George Fazio and Harry Nettieblatt at four under par. The swarthy Texas powerhouse, who looks small and hits them big, took on the Hershey job from Henry Picard last winter and since has won more than any other pro, scored lower on an average and has an unbroken string of 53 tournaments in which he finished in the money. Hogan had to be good before the home folks to match the kind of golf shot during the preliminary round yesterday on the 7,000-yard par-73 course. With good weather, and the course in perfect condition, the top-notchers had a field day, 14 breaking par and four equalling it. The Hershey Open winds up Sunday night. Today's low 60 and ties qualify for the final 36 holes.

LUCKMAN LEADS CHICAGOANS TO 37 TO 13 TRIUMPH

Series Record Throng of 98,200 See Game Last Night

By WILLIAM WEEKES

Chicago, Aug. 29—(AP)—From the latest available evidence, it's going to take a lot of blasting to jar Chicago's professional football champion Bears loose from their National League honors.

The evidence was presented last night at historic Soldier Field before a series record throng of 98,200 who saw the Bears, led by brilliant Sid Luckman, crush a battling squad of the headline stars for 1940 college football, 37 to 13, in the Chicago Tribune's eighth annual all-star spectacle.

The margin was nothing like the 73 to 0 rolled up over the Washington Redskins in last year's league championship game, but it looked highly impressive for an early season effort. The triumph, the third in a row for the professional brand of football, was accomplished in a manner which indicated the bulging Bears and their "T" formation could have done better if necessary.

Great 1940 Stars

The All-Stars with such 1940 greats as Michigan's Tommy Harmon, sturdy George Frank of Minnesota, both All-Americans and Norman Standlee of Stanford's undefeated Rose Bowl victors in the battle front, made a contest of it for one period, came up with thrilling plays and battled every minute of the way—but didn't have what was needed to slow up the power-packed pro titleholders.

Luckman, whose passing and leadership were at concert pitch, fired a touchdown pass to Ken Kavanaugh in the first quarter, another to George McAfee in the fourth, one to Kavanaugh which set up another score, along with completing numerous others. To complement his passing, Luckman mixed in powerful line-crashing from Fullbacks Bill Osmanski, Gary Famiglietti and Joe Maniaci and smart running by McAfee, Ray Nolting, and Harry Clark.

Clark scored twice from close range and Bob Nowaskey accounted for the other Bear touchdown on a pass from young Bussey. Lee Artow, the Bears' star sophomore tackle, provided the other three points with a spectacular 46-yard place kick.

All-Star Moments

The All-Stars' big moments of glory came in the first period when Harmon whipped a pass to Frank for a score-tying touchdown, and in the final quarter when Charlie O'Rourke, the little fellow from O'Brien College, shot a handsome 40-yard pass to Jackie Robinson, Negro star from U. C. L. A., who ran six yards for the other touchdown.

Harmon got away for several sizeable gains, and the kick-returns and all around play of Frank brought him a cheer when he was removed in the third period after suffering a torn muscle under his right shoulder.

Standouts among the All-Star lineups were Ed Frutig, Michigan end, Augie Lio of Georgetown, Ernie Pannell of Texas Aggies, Dave Rankin of Purdue, and Ken Whitlow of Rice.

Terry Moore Says He'll Be Back In Cards' Lineup Soon

Boston, Aug. 29—(AP)—Terry Moore is going to get back into that St. Louis Cardinals' lineup by the end of next week, he promised today, "because you can't keep a good Irishman down."

Victim of an accidental beating by Lefty Art Johnson of the Boston Braves, August 20, the Cardinal Captain and center fielder was all smiles at the prospect of a speedy discharge from St. Elizabeth's hospital.

"Dr. Eddie O'Brien tells me now that it's up to me," Terry said. "I did some walking this morning and I'm going to do some more this afternoon. I feel swell now. I figure I'll get out of here tomorrow and head for St. Louis. The way I feel now, I'll be back in that lineup by the end of next week. Of course, I'll see how I feel after I work out a little."

Jackpot Year

Terry figures this is the jackpot year for the Cards. "We've earned it," he said. "I'm not squawking but if it wasn't for injuries, we'd be a mile out in front."

"That's what gets me," he continued earnestly, "all this talk about Brooklyn deserving to win because the fans are so loyal. How about the ballplayers? We've fought our hearts out for this pennant and we'll fight it out right down to the finish. They're not going to lick these Cardinals."

Maine was known as the District of Maine, under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts, for more than 180 years.

Sports Roundup

BY SID FEDER

(Pinch Hitting for Eddie Brietz) New York, Aug. 29—(The Special News Service)—Mike Jacobs admits he "ain't had a laugh like it since the petunias came up" . . .

Here everybody's mourning that the World Series'll cut into the Louis-Nova gate—and Uncle Mike only has $125,000 advance orders in the till already. . . . And if the National League is such a great pitchers' loop, how come the three top lifetime records in the big time today are owned by American League elbowers? . . . Lefty Grove with 300 wins, Red Ruffing with 245 and Ted Lyons with 243. . . . In case you haven't noticed, the next game the Yanks win puts the old mathematical elimination slug on the Tigers—who only copped last year's flag . . .

Dis-a and Dat-a

The thing that made up Larry MacPhail's mind about bringing Augie Galan to Brooklyn instead of letting him escape to Los Angeles was that Augie always batted .320 in Ebbets field as a Chicago Cub. . . . After giving his Iowa sophs the double-O, Eddie Anderson didn't even bother taking his crying towel out to the mobthalls. . . . The Baltimore Sun's C. M. Gibbs, hearing that Bobby Feller is working on a new pitch, wonders if "a new team probably wouldn't be of more help" . . .

Today's Guest Star

Don Donaghy, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "Larry MacPhail staged a fashion parade at the Dodgers' ball park before a ball game. . . . It is now apparent why Blimp Phelps fled the Dodgers' gold. What ball player wants to go down in history as the man who modeled the stylish stouts?" . . .

Genius

The winner of this week's furlined handkerchief is the brilliant mind in Joliet, Ill., who invented a softball game with three teams playing at the same time. One bats, one fields and one's on the bench. . . . When a side's retired, it takes over the bench, the fielding team comes in to hit and the outfit that was resting takes the field. . . . If you can stand any more, try Einstein's theory . . .

Bear's Blitz

The All-Star gridders learned with pain (And were all but annihilated) That the Chicago Bears' machine Proves Model T's not antiquated. . . .

Gettin' Around

Collinsville (Ill.) home-town fans gave Yankee Coach Art Fletcher a shotgun, a dog and gilt baseball in St. Louis yesterday. . . . To go along with all the American League goats he's collected, no doubt. . . . The second time W. O. Houston stepped on a golf course this year he sank a hole in one in the Dearborn (Mich.) Peter Dawson Ringer tournament. . . . And what's this about Jimmy Wilson and the Cubs' front office? . . . The whisper is the latest frowns came when Jimmy wanted Burleigh Grimes as coach and the office signed Kiki Cuyler. . . .

HOWARD POLLET "ZEROS" GIANTS FOR CARDINALS

Young Hurler May Aid St. Louis in Tight Pennant Race

BY JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer Howard Pollet is a young fellow with whom baseball fans might as well get acquainted, because he is going to be a great star and may help squeeze the St. Louis Cardinals into this year's National League championship.

Pollet is the 20-year-old southpaw who turned the Texas League upside down for Houston before the Cards promoted him a couple weeks ago. Down there he won 20 and lost four, had an earned-run average of 1.06, and pitched five shutouts, including a no-hitter.

Yesterday he shut out the New York Giants, 5-0, on three scattered singles. Previously he had beaten the Boston Braves, 3-2, on four hits, and had lost to the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-2, while giving seven safeties.

His triumph over the Giants came while the Dodgers had an open day and shaved Brooklyn's first-place margin to one game.

Spectacular Show

The National League had another spectacular pitching show as Boston downed the Chicago Cubs, 2-1. Tom Earley held the Cubs to two hits, one of them a homer by Phil Cavaretta in the ninth. Vallie Eaves pitched four-hit ball, but forced in a run in the first with a walk and gave another on Max West's homer in the fourth.

Pittsburgh edged out the Phillies, 3-2, with three runs in the ninth, two of them on a double by little Lee Handley.

The New York Yankees maintained their 17-game lead in the American League by bopping the St. Louis Browns, 8-5, in 10 innings. The Yankees punched over five runs in the first three innings and then settled down to coast home. But George McQuinn, who had knocked in a run with a double in the first inning, tied the score with a two-bagger in the ninth.

Three Runs In Extra Frame This forced the Yankees to turn on the scoring switch again and they blasted across three tallies in the extra frame. Tom Henrich knocked in two of them with a double. He had hit his 26th homer with one on in the third.

Thornton Lee, the year's outstanding lefthander in the American League, chalked up his 17th victory by holding the Washington Senators to four singles while the Chicago White Sox rolled to a 4-0 shutout. Taft Wright had a perfect day at bat with a double and two singles and Luke Appling hit two singles. Each player drove in two runs.

Rudy York hit a homer with the bases loaded in the seventh inning to give the Detroit Tigers an 8-7 triumph over the Boston Red Sox after homers by Ted Williams and Joe Cronin had headed the Sox into an early lead. Dick Siebert singled with the bases loaded to score three runs in the seventh and propel the Philadelphia Athletics to a 5-3 victory over the staggering Cleveland Indians. The A's opened with a pair of runs off Al Milnar in the first, but Cleveland clawed back with three tallies in the same frame. However, Bill Beckman, who replaced Johnny Babich with one out in the first inning, held the Indians to four hits the rest of the way.

Defense Industries Lure Talent From Pro Baseball Clubs

Columbus, O., Aug. 29—(AP)—Defense industries are luring likely talent from professional baseball, a veteran "ivory hunter" remarked today.

Charles "Pop" Kelchner of Lebanon, Pa., now directing a tryout camp for the St. Louis Cardinal organization at the Columbus Red Birds' stadium, reported an enrollment of 113 youthful players.

"The Columbus Camp Normal attracts more than 200," he said. "There were similar declines at other Cardinal summer camps. Many of the boys have important, well-paying jobs in defense plants. The factories need them, and they prefer to pass up a chance for a baseball career."

Blow Dealt By War

The bespectacled scout recalled the blow the World War dealt professional baseball, slowing the game's tempo and cutting attendance.

"There is no need at all for major leagues to close up if the country should become involved in actual warfare," he said. "That should mean only realignment of our baseball setup. The lads under 21 and those 28 or older could take over. This might slow up the game, particularly in the minor loops, but it shouldn't be a knockout blow."

Defense Gives "Forty Plus-er" a Chance to Make Their Combacks

Chicago.—(The Special News Service)—America's defense program is putting the man over 40 back on his feet - professionally and industrially speaking - at least in some sections of the nation.

S. B. Fithian, president of the Chicago Men Over Forty club, said today this was indicated in reports from "forty-plus" groups in some chief industrial centers.
He conducted a survey to determine the effect of the defense program on the employment prospects of unemployed former executives of over 40 who earned $4,000 or more annually before they lost their lucrative positions.

Reports that the defense industrial boom has reacted favorably came from Philadelphia, New York, Detroit, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Buffalo and Pittsburgh.
No improvement for the "oldsters"
however, was noted in reports from either Chicago or Boston, where the forty-plus movement was begun about three years ago to squelch the idea that a man of 40 or beyond is washed-up - in business, in the professions, or in industry.

Effects Several Fields

"The national defense program," H. A. Beach, president of the Philadelphia club, reported, has had the effect of moving out all members who possessed any measure of technical training. Its effect has also been felt in the fields of accounting and office management."

From Sidney G. Koon, chairman of the public relations department of New York's club, came this statement:

"The defense program has had a marked effect in placing those of our members who have had engineering experience. It has not taken all such men, but more than have gone. In general, the spurring of activity in many lines allied with defense in one way or another, x x x

Inclined To "Hedge"

"Employers are coming more and more to tell us that they are not allergic to men over 40. In all too many cases, however, that spirit does not reach down to the employment manager, and even the man who says he has no objection in the matter is inclined to 'hedge' when brought up against a real case."

Frank H. Rine, president of Detroit's group, said he knew of a few higher executives being

Harriman to Head U. S. Delegation to Soviet Russia

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP) — President Roosevelt disclosed today that he would appoint W. Averell Harriman head of an American delegation which will go to Moscow to consider the problem of aid to Russia.

Harriman has been in London handling lease-lend operations, and Roosevelt said John Biggers, who has been in charge of production for the Office of Production Management, would take over Harriman's duties in the British capital.

The delegation to Moscow, which will meet with corresponding British and Russian groups, may be appointed within a few days, the president told a press conference, and may have a half dozen members.

Harriman originally was sent to London, the president explained, chiefly to handle shipping problems and assist in getting aid to nations resisting aggression.

Needs Trouble Shooter

But the position enlarged itself,
Roosevelt said, to take in problems of production and supplies of all kinds, and the point was reached where the chief executive needed another general trouble shooter.

Not only will Biggers take over Harriman's duties, but he also will attempt, Roosevelt said, to tie British production problems more closely to those of this country.

He said the position was so exceedingly important that it ought to be filled at all times.

With Biggers in London, the president said, Harriman will become available for use in other places, but he would not agree that Harriman would be what a reported termed a "lease-lend administrator at large."

The rat population of the United States is double the human population, according to estimates.

The flesh of the octopus is considered a great delicacy by many Hawaiians.

Co. A on Maneuvers

By PFC. JAMES W. KLINE

On Wednesday Aug. 12th this company took over the guard detail at the camp site for the 129th Infantry at Arkadelphia. This is the roster for that day:

Officer of the Day—1st Lt. Lyle V. Jones

Officer of the Guard—2nd Lt. Leon Corso

Sergeant of the Guard—Sgt. Lawrence Jenks

Corporals of the Guard—Corp. Gilbert Frase, Sylvan Jeanblanc, George Imfeld

Privates of the Guard—Pfc. Raymond Drew, Pfc. Royal Hampton, Pfc. Harold Hughes, Pfc. Harold Meirath, Pfc. Dale Reuter, Pfc. Ernest Schmall, Pfc. Arthur Schuler, Pvt. Wade Booker, Pvt. Eber Burgess, Pvt. John Caudle, Pvt. Charles Clark, Pvt. Fred Holderman, Pvt. Thomas Jackson, Pvt. Clyde Keller, Pvt. Paul Lauer, Pvt. Joy Middleton, Pvt. Vernon Rushing, Pvt. Clarence Schmall, Pvt. Frank Shoemaker, Pvt. Kenneth Smith, Pvt. Bernard Stellar, Pvt. Lloyd Williams, Pvt. George Griesman, Pvt. James Grigsby, Pvt. George Greenaway, Pvt. George Guyett, Pvt. John Halberg, Pvt. Kermit Hardy, Pvt. Chester Hartman

There was one more promotion that was inadvertently omitted from last week's report. Corp. Kenneth Adams has qualified as a sergeant. He is also pleased to announce that Wayne Wolfe, commander of Regimental Headquarters company has been advanced to the rank of captain.

Company A now boasts a captain for company commander for the first time since we were under the wing of Capt. Gus Wimpleberg. Capt. Robert Carr of Ottawa joined the company in the field on the 17th of August.

Thursday afternoon, August 13th, tents were struck and all of our baggage and equipment were piled to be transported by truck to the next camp ground. Under tactical conditions we waited until midnight and the entire brigade marched silently away, mile after mile of troops, walking in a column of four, not a word being spoken and no cigarettes being smoked. We passed through Arkadelphia and turned south. Each hour a halt was called for a 10 minute rest period. As day light came, we still had one more hour hour to go. Finally we saw our kitchen set up in a cotton field and knew that the end of that march was over. We had come 15 1/2 miles and our feet were plenty hot and tired.

Rested All Day
The tents were pitched on the banks of a little creek and we washed and rested all day. After supper we rolled our packs and pushed off again at 10 o'clock. Marched all night again to a bivouac area near the Little Missouri river. Laid over at this place until Sunday evening.

Again the march was made at night and this time we bivouaced in a woods near the small town of Belvins Ark. From this point the simulated warfare between the Reds and the Blues was about to begin.

On Saturday morning at 6 o'clock we attacked the town of Belvins and took this point from the enemy. At 11 o'clock temporary peace was called and the troops returned to their bivouac areas to rest over the week end.

There are several small towns in this vicinity, so on Saturday night a large number of the boys set out in search of relaxation, exploitation, diversion and a few other things that the government doesn't issue.

It is surprising how well the stock of watermelons holds out. They seem to grow wild. What I mean is, they are planted by some local hopefuls, but each time a body of men came to a patch, it would look like an 80 rod steepie chase as the boys went over the fence. The big green goobers don't have a chance, because with one deft stroke, the army has eliminated all the middlemen in that particular market. Even the producers is a forgotten man.

War Resumed Monday
The war was resumed on Monday and the going got pretty hot. Our outfit, placed in a precarious position, gave a good showing but under superior artillery fire had to withdraw temporarily. The entire brigade was obliged to evacuate our shelter in the woods for about six hours. We withstood enemy aircraft bombardment and machine gun strafings by roving weapons carriers and finally regained the protection of our original line of fire.

So far all of the battle maneuvers have been preliminary tactics to accustom the men and the officers to the different kinds of terrain and the various unexpected situations arising from simulated warfare.

August 26th the real thing begins with the second and third armies pitted against each other in the battle of Kotmk and Almat. The country we are in is heavily wooded and thick with thorny bushes and small trees. There are millions of small, harmless lizards and chameleons, and a great number of snakes of all kinds and sizes, some not so small and some not so harmless. The woods are full of chiggers, spiders, mosquitoes and all kinds of insects, but no one has been bitten seriously. It is unlikely that anyone will be bitten by a poisonous snake but we have been prepared and instructed on how to meet such an emergency. We have heard rumors that in the bayous of Louisiana, where we are going, the mosquitoes court the barnyard turkeys. So we can expect almost anything.
